Peninsula Humane Society & SPCA seeking homes for an abundance of Guinea pigs

Burlingame, CA—Peninsula Humane Society & SPCA (PHS/SPCA) is experiencing an abundance of Guinea pigs at their shelter and are seeking homes for these popular animals. PHS/SPCA is currently waiving adoption fees for Guinea pigs for qualified adopters.

“Guinea pigs can be exceptionally friendly and often squeal with delight when they see their owners,” said PHS/SPCA’s Communications Manager Buffy Martin Tarbox. “They quickly bond to humans and given their overall interactive nature and lower maintenance care than a dog or cat, they make great pets.”

Guinea pigs need hay, fresh water and vegetables and special food pellets formulated for them. They do require a large cage lined with pine or paper-based bedding. Guinea pigs on average live five to seven years and are known for their occasional unique squeals of delight and chattering.

A few wonderful traits about Guinea pigs:

- They are very friendly, social and love being with people
- They are clean pets that can be litter box trained
- They can be excellent pets for first-time pet owners and kids
- They are adorable when they “popcorn” which is jumping in the air with joy

“We currently have more than two dozen Guinea pigs at our shelter, including long-hair guinea pigs,” according to Tarbox. “Even though the adoption fees are waived on guinea pigs, we will still be following our strict and rigorous adoption processes since we want to make permanent matches.”

Guinea pigs have been domesticated since 5,000 BC. They were popular pets among royalty and the upper-class in Europe in the 16th century, and their popularity as pets has not waned through the centuries.

PHS/SPCA encourages potential adopters to visit their Tom and Annette Lantos Center for Compassion at 1450 Rollins Road in Burlingame to meet the guinea pigs. The shelter is open seven days a week for adoptions, 11:00 am to 6:00 pm.

About The Peninsula Humane Society & SPCA

The Peninsula Humane Society & SPCA (PHS/SPCA) is a local, private, non-profit charitable organization dedicated to animal welfare. Among our major programs, PHS/SPCA adopts fully 100% of the healthy dogs and cats in our care and, through our charitably funded Hope Program, makes well and finds homes for thousands of animals who come to us sick, injured, or too young to survive without supportive care. PHS/SPCA is truly an open admission shelter, not only accepting many pet animals who might be refused at other shelters, but also taking care of injured and orphaned native wildlife from San Francisco through San Mateo and the northern half of Santa Clara County. Our work means 5,700 lives saved each year. Please visit www.phs-sPCA.org to learn about all our programs and services, ways to help our animals and special events.
