DEAR FELLOW ANIMAL LOVER

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT ANTHONY TANSIMORE

Autumn is always a wonderful season at the shelter. As the year rolls to a close, we spend time planning for the animals in the year to come. So many intricate details are addressed every day for each wild and domestic animal in our care. We strive to provide consistent excellent care and always look for ways to improve.

An important part of getting ready for the new year is reflecting, as well, on all we've accomplished together over the past year. There are, of course, numbers and statistics, but it's the lives touched that those numbers represent that is meaningful to me. Besides the countless adopters who have seen their families brighten with the addition of a new pet, there are injured and orphaned wildlife cared for and released back to nature, and there are the young children who are able to get up close to our work in the summer day camps you can read about in this issue.

And then there are stories like Prieta's. This little terrier found herself stranded in the bay. You can read more about her rescue in this issue. I am so proud of the work our Animal Rescue & Control staff members do every day. Fire and police personnel call us frequently for assistance at fire and disaster sites, rescues, and emergency scenes when animals are involved. Our staff show up every time, roll their sleeves up, and quietly get to work supporting pets and their owners. You can find some tips on our website (phs-spca.org/disaster) about how to be prepared for your pet if an emergency occurs. It's not something most of us enjoy thinking about, but I've rested much easier since I prepared my dog Zoey's "go kit." It's nice to know we are ready with everything she may need if we find ourselves in an emergency.

Thanks to the generosity of so many, we are able to keep caring for animals and supporting their humans! Every day, people volunteer their time here, send financial contributions, and donate other items like those on our wishlists for various animals in our shelter. We are deeply grateful for the thoughtfulness and generosity of our community. It never gets old and makes each day feel like a new adventure.

Sincerely,

Anthony Tansimore, President

PRIETA'S HARROWING ORDEAL HAS A HAPPY ENDING

THANKS TO FIRST RESPONDERS AND AN UP-TO-DATE MICROCHIP, MISSING DOG REUNITED WITH HER FAMILY

Many don't know that our staff are often among the first to arrive — along with police, fire, and other first responders — at disaster and emergency scenes when animals are involved. Police and fire departments often reach out to us and we all work hand-in-hand to take care of animals and their owners who find themselves in tough situations.

This summer, a sweet little eight-year-old terrier mix named Prieta went missing from her home. Despite her owner's relentless efforts to find her, the days and nights passed with no success in the search. Little did Prieta's family know that a complete stranger would soon come to their aid.

One day, a woman from Menlo Park decided to venture down to Cooley Landing Park to enjoy the bay for a few minutes on her way to another engagement. She spotted a scared dog leaping into the water and swimming further and further from the shoreline. The Good Samaritan called 911, and very soon after, Menlo Park Fire, East Palo Alto Police, and Redwood City Fire came to the rescue. Using binoculars, GPS trackers, and a drone, they were able to dispatch a boat and swoop the dog, who had swum a half mile into the bay, to safety.

Once the rescue crew made it to shore, they called our Animal Rescue & Control staff for assistance. Our staff transferred the shivering pup, who had been swimming in the bay for 40 minutes, from the firefighter's coat into a warm blanket. Due to the condition of the dog, the staff brought her back to the shelter where our veterinarian examined her, made sure her lungs were clear, and treated her facial lacerations. These may have resulted from the birds the police observed pecking at the dog while she was out in the bay. While the veterinary staff gave the little dog some food, Animal Rescue & Control staff searched various databases after scanning Prieta's microchip.

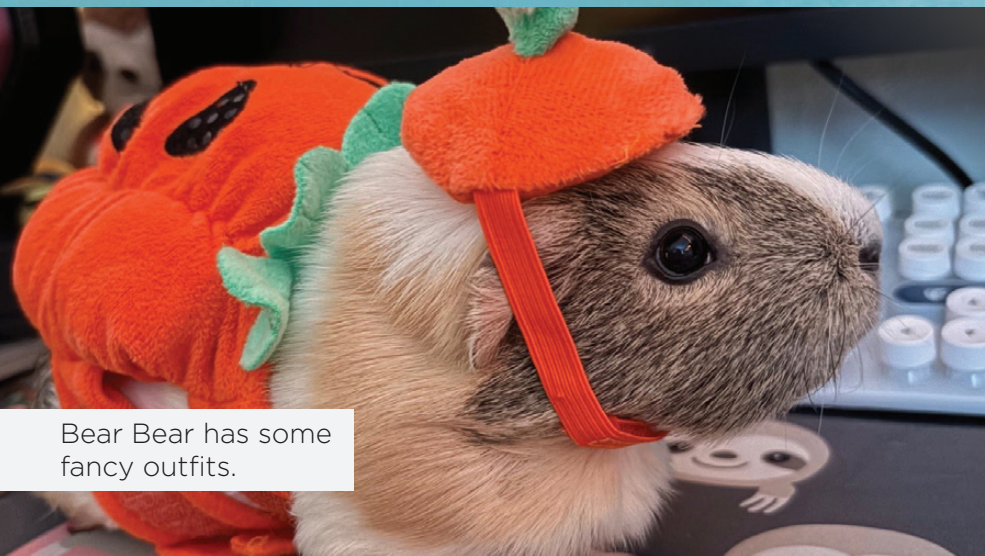

Prieta began to relax once she made it back to shore!

Our Animal Rescue & Control staff member, Leti, responded to the scene when fire and police called for assistance.

In a happy ending for all, they were able to locate Prieta's owner. Shortly thereafter, Prieta was back in her deeply grateful human mom's arms where she belonged. This is the kind of challenging work our Animal Rescue & Control staff and veterinary team are called upon to handle. Every day, they help animals through difficult situations with care and compassion ■

If your pet needs a microchip, you can visit our San Mateo shelter at 12 Airport Blvd. and complete the simple procedure for $30 without an appointment. Lost animals in shelters can be reunited with their owners if they have a microchip or current identification tag.

Bear Bear has some fancy outfits.

In addition to his kibble which he enjoys, Bear Bear eats lots of fresh veggies.

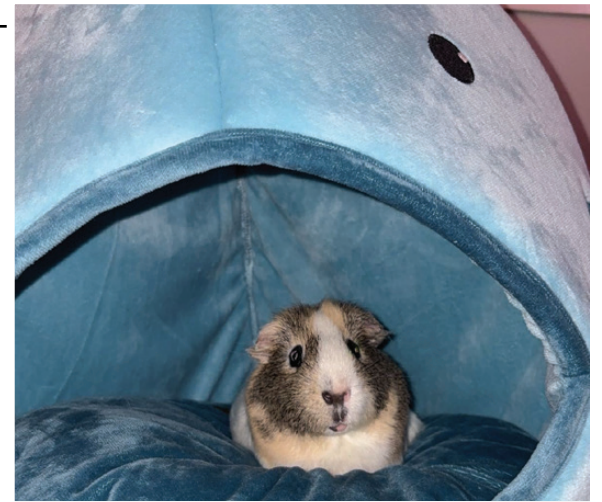

STRANGER CHANGES BEAR BEAR'S LIFE

AFTER BEING RESCUED FROM A STRIP MALL, BEAR BEAR IS LIVING THE GOOD LIFE

One day last year a kind man brought us six guinea pigs who were abandoned at a local strip mall. Our staff examined the guinea pigs and deemed them healthy and suitable for adoption. Guinea pigs like company generally, so they were placed together in a couple of spacious enclosures. Soon thereafter, our volunteer looking after the guinea pigs noticed that one of the guinea pigs, Bear Bear, was being bullied by his kennel mates. Our volunteers are very well trained, and their keen observation skills serve our animals well. Even though these kennel mates were found together at the strip mall, and even though guinea pigs are quite social, in this case, it was deemed best for Bear Bear that he be housed alone, and that he be adopted as a solo guinea pig.

Meanwhile, Katie, the granddaughter of a friend of our longtime and legendary veterinarian Linda Janowitz, had been researching what pet would be right for her. She landed upon guinea pigs due to their social nature and adorable personalities. She studied guinea pigs for months. She learned about things such as the rigid, curved spines guinea pigs have, built to support them walking on all four legs, making it important to exercise caution when picking them up so their back muscles are not strained. When Katie learned about Bear Bear through her grandma, she came right over to the shelter and it was love at first sight.

Well, Bear Bear really struck it lucky. He is served fresh vegetables every day and has a special hay feeder in his enclosure. He likes to pull the hay out and lay it on a special tray before he eats it. Every day his huge cage is cleaned and his food dishes are washed. He has three plush spots to hide in his enclosure and lots of toys to play with.

Bear Bear likes to hide out in his whale bed.

Sometimes he gets to run around outside his enclosure in a playpen area. Bear Bear is very popular in Katie's household. When her cousins visit they always rush upstairs only to find Bear Bear perched at the edge of his enclosure ready to greet them.

Katie has a guinea cam set up for Bear Bear's enclosure. When she is out of town and notices his hay supply is low or water needs refreshing, she calls her grandma and asks her to tend to her baby! Thanks, Katie, for being an excellent guinea pig mom! Guinea pigs, rabbits, and other small animals make great pets! Visit phs-sPCA.org/smallanimals to see who's available. ■

Your Legacy THE WAY YOU WANT IT

Did you know that every October, there is a week dedicated to estate planning awareness? During National Estate Planning Awareness Week, October 19th - 25th, we encourage everyone to reflect on how prepared they are for the future. Creating a will or trust helps relieve stress on your loved ones and allows you to leave a legacy that reflects your compassion and care. Through our partner FreeWill, you can create a will in as little as 20 minutes and at no cost to you. To get started, visit our website at phs-sPCA.planmylegacy.org or scan the QR code.

Our animals would be honored if you chose to leave a gift for them in your estate plans. If you have any questions about leaving a gift for our animals or to notify us that you have included them in your will or trust, contact Lisa Van Buskirk at LVanBuskirk@phs-sPCA.org or 650-340-7022 ext. 327.

Look how proud Tammy is of her new family!

Tammy loves having a sibling.

TAMMY'S BIG DAY FINALLY CAME!

AFTER ONE YEAR, TAMMY FOUND THE PERFECT FAMILY FOR HER

Tammy, a two-year-old pit bull mix, came to our shelter in June of 2025 as a stray. Her intake medical evaluation showed her to be in good health and her behavior evaluation indicated she was ready to find her forever family. Tammy was quite popular with dogs and people alike at the shelter. Behavior staff worked with Tammy throughout her stay. She did well in most any situation—play sessions with her dog shelter friends, accompanying staff at outreach events, going on special field trips and outings with shelter volunteers, and going on hikes. She was part of many adoption promotions as well. Despite all of this, Tammy had no luck landing with her forever family. She waited for more than a year in the shelter and was one of our longest-term resident dogs.

This summer, Tammy's fortunes changed! In late June, she was featured statewide on NBC's California Live. Just a few days later, her big day came! A family, with their resident chihuahua mix in tow, came to our shelter and visited with Tammy. Everyone hit it off instantly and they adopted Tammy as their newest family member. Now they are living happily ever after! ■

“Tammy's a great dog and we love her so much! She gets along so well with our dog, Bazinga!!!”

SO MUCH IS HAPPENING OFF-LINE AT PHS/SPCA!

KIDS NEVER HAD SO MUCH FUN OFF OF THEIR PHONES AND TABLETS

Animal Camp is one of our most beloved educational programs. Each summer we offer intensive week-long learning experiences for youth ages 8-10 and 11-13. We also host a winter camp every year, and this year we hosted a Nature Camp at the Wildlife Care Center. In total, our education staff and volunteers facilitate eight weeks of camp hosting 175 youth. Our camps aim to foster understanding and compassion for animals. They are also a lot of fun!

The children loved partaking in opportunities to meet and learn about many types of pets including rabbits, guinea pigs, snakes, lizards, jumping spiders, chickens, pigeons, dogs, cats, and more! They learned how to interact with and care for these animals as well as the basics of animal husbandry and how to read dog, cat, and rabbit body language. Campers had the opportunity to practice dog training, play games, make enrichment toys for shelter animals, and learn about animal welfare issues, such as factory farming and the exotic pet trade, that impact animals locally and globally.

Educational programs like our Animal Camp help to create more compassionate future generations, which benefits us all, not just the animals! ■

Vince the red-footed tortoise very much enjoyed all the back scratches and attention.

Day campers made some castles and furniture for the cats and kittens to play in at the shelter.

WILDLIFE CARE CENTER WELCOMES YOUNG CAMPERS FOR NATURE EXCURSIONS AND HANDS-ON LEARNING

Peninsula Humane Society & SPCA hosted a nature-themed summer camp at the Wildlife Care Center in Saratoga. Special sessions were created for 8-10 year-olds and 11-13 year-olds. The Nature Camps were designed to engage and inspire youth while fostering a deep understanding of local wildlife and ecosystems.

Camp activities included art projects, animal-themed games, nature crafts, daily activities along the Learning Path with interactive exhibits, and nature excursions. Participants observed local wildlife, investigated animal tracks and clues, and developed the skills needed to identify wild animal species.

Campers learned about native plants and animals of woodlands, wetlands, and other ecosystems from the San Francisco Bay Area to the Central Coast. They also examined how they can help wildlife in their own backyards. ■

Our wildlife rehabilitation staff is showing how the baby white-throated swift patient is fed.

Our veterinarian is using a stuffy to show how a hawk's damaged wing is wrapped so it heals properly.

Participants enjoyed their arts and crafts time.

Giving Back THROUGH YOUR EMPLOYER

Dollar for dollar or hour for hour, some organizations will generously match charitable gifts or volunteer hours made by their employees as an incentive to give back. Ask your employer if they have a matching gift program so your gifts can go even further to support our local animals.

PLAN AHEAD FOR YOUR End of Year Donations

SAN MATEO CA 94401
21 DEC 2026

Peninsula Humane Society & SPCA

Recent changes within the United States Postal Service (USPS) can affect your end of year tax-deductible donation. The USPS is now postmarking mail at regional processing centers instead of your local post office, which means if you drop your donation in the mail on or close to December 31st it might not get processed until days later with a postmark reflecting a January date.

This is important for your tax deductions as the IRS could treat the postmark date as your donation date by attributing your tax-deductible donation to the new year. Be prepared and plan ahead by mailing any 2026 donations well before the last week of the year to ensure your donation is attributed to this year for your taxes.

You can also relieve any stress about processing delays by visiting the retail counter of your local post office to request a hand stamp or by dropping off your donation in person at our Burlingame shelter located at 1450 Rollins Rd. Burlingame, CA 94010 during our open hours.
